Seymour Library Local History Room Policy

The primary purpose of the Seymour Library's Local History Room is to provide a space for patrons to research the communities' vast and rich histories and to provide a venue for lectures/programs that focus on historical subject matter or meetings held by local nonprofit organizations whose mission is to preserve and highlight local history. As with other meeting spaces, there is no charge for use of this room.

If the Library meeting rooms are booked, or cannot adequately meet the capacity needs of the event, the Local History Room may be used by Library staff, the Friends of the Seymour Library and/or other organizations affiliated with the Library.

Provision of space does not constitute the Library's endorsement of any group or its activities.

The Local History Room will be scheduled on a first-come, first-served basis and will be available during the Library's normal hours. The room be vacated 15 minutes before closing time.

If the Library is closed due to weather or like emergency, the Local History Room will also be closed.

Limitations of Use

- Refreshments may not be brought into the Local History Room without prior approval. Only light refreshments will be permitted; the group serving them will be responsible for any clean up immediately following the meeting.
